

I grew up being a slow reader and processor, and even with a mom for a teacher, I was never diagnosed with dyslexia. When I noticed my own daughter struggling to read, I had her privately tested in 1st grade. This was 3 years ago. When I started my journey, I was very alone, and quickly realized it was going to be up to me to ensure my daughter's success. I submerged myself in dyslexia and find it extremely fascinating. The more I learn about it on my daughter's behalf, the more I learn about myself. My goal is to empower and educate parents, to help them find their voices, and in turn, educate their school teachers and administrators; we advocate for positive change!

Decoding Dyslexia – Spring Branch Houston is a very engaged community of parents and teachers, and I am honored to be the admin for the group. I am also on SBISD's Dyslexia Awareness Team and live in Spring Branch/Memorial Houston.

Becky Berend

Rebecks99@yahoo.com

Area resources:

Neuhaus.org (training and tutor referrals)

Disabilityrightstx.org

Houston Branch of the International Dyslexia Association